The Support Group for Reading Workshop, planned for Monday 28 August, has been deferred until term 4 or early term 1 in 2018. At Inglewood PS we aim to cater for all students at their reading level. A school focus is the use of guided reading. Children's reading texts are selected at the child's reading level and activities are used to assist the decoding and understanding of the text by the practice of a range of reading strategies. Students are often grouped for their similar reading levels. Since 2015 there has been a small and dedicated group of parents and grandparents who have attended a workshop and now support children with their reading in classrooms. If you are interested in attending a workshop and/or being involved, we'd love to hear from you. Please leave your name at the front office or see Donna Davidson in Room 6 for further information.

SCIENCE WEEK ACTIVITIES

This week was National Science Week. Lots of classes did fun science activities in their classrooms. Some of these were.... making planets, making terrariums and even growing crystals. In Room 7, year 4, we made water bottle rockets. We built the rockets from recycled materials and blasted them off on the netball courts. Then we measured the distance they travelled using a trundle wheel and we made a graph of the results. Zoe's rocket went 32m!

This year's Book Fair will take place in the Library from:

Tuesday 22 August from 5.00pm – 6.30pm (Open Night) until
